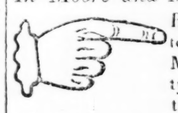
VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE,

In Moore and Montgomery Counties.



By virtue of a Power of Attorney to me executed by Mrs. Sally Bass, of the county of Wake, I offer for sale the tract of land in Moore County, known as the Bullock Spring tract, containihg about 275 Acres—And also, one other tract, lying in Moore and Montgomery counties, on both sides of Williams' Creek, containing about 400 acres, more or less.

These lands were partially worked a few years since for Gold, by a gentleman of Raleigh, and found to contain the richest specimens of Copper ore, as well as some Gold and Iron ore.

Capitalists would do well to look into this matter, as a great bargain may be had, and as the plank road will run near it, it may be worked to advantage. If not sold privately, I shall be in Carthage, Monday and Tuesday of Moore County Court, January 28, 29, and shall then sell at public sale. For further particulars, and as to title, I refer to C. C. Battle, of Raleigh, and A. R Kelly, of Carthage, Attorneys at Law.

POETICAL.

WHAT IS NOBLE?

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

What is noble? to inherit
Wealth, estate, and proud degree?—
There must be some other merit
Higher yet than these for me!—
Something greater far must enter
Into life's majestic span;
Fitted to create and centre
True nobility in man!

What is noble? 'tis the finer
Portion of our mind and heart;
Linked to something still diviner
Than mere language can impart;
Ever prompting—ever seeing
Some improvement yet to plan;
To uplift our fellow being—
And, like man, to feel for man!

What is noble? is the sabre
Nobler than the humble spade?
There is a dignity in labor
Truer than e'er pomp arrayed!
He who seeks the mind's improvement
Aids the world—in aiding mind!—
Every great commanding movement
Serves not one—but all mankind.

O'er the Forge's heat and ashes—
O'er the Engine's Iron head—
Where the rapid shuttle flashes,
And the spindle whirls its thread;
There is Labor lowly tending
Each requirement of the hour,
There is genius still extending
Science—and it's world of power!

'Mid the dust, and speed, and clamor
Of the loom-shed and the mill;
'Midst the clink of wheel and hammer,
Great results are growing still!
Though too oft by Fashion's creatures
Work and workers may be blamed;
Commerce need not hide its features!
Industry is not ashamed!

What is noble? that which places
Truth in its enfranchised will!
Leaving steps—like angel-traces—
That mankind may follow still!
E'en though Scorn's malignant glances
Prove him poorest of his clan,
He's the Noble—who advances
Freedom, and the cause of Man!

AN INCIDENT BEFORE MARRIAGE.

BY SOLTAIRE.

Walker's celebrated Exchange, in Louisville, is the favorite resort of the citizens of the burgh—and its gentlemanly proprietor enjoys a popularity there which would elect him Governor of the State if he would but consent to run for the office. Strangers, of course, go to Walker's, and he takes them in, but sometimes he puts them out—a case of the latter Kind was related to us the other day, which deserves to be chronicled.

A young gentleman arrived in L. about two weeks since, on a matrimonial visit to his doxy. He made his call, and arranged all the preliminaries, passed a delightful afternoon and evening, sipped a honeyed kiss from the lips of his fair inamorata at parting and started down to his lodgings at the Galt House. The wedding was set off for the next day, and the happy young dog tripped along, so buoyed up by anticipation, that you would have guessed, to have seen him, that he had mercury like wings to his heels. On his way down he observed that the light was still burning in Walker's, and the large placard at the door of "Fresh Oysters in the shell," was too tempting an invitation, at that interesting period to be passed by; so he thought he would just step in and taste a dozen by way of invigorating his dreams. He entered, a dozen was called for, served, tasted and washed down with a glass of the proprietor's choice Madeira. The general good feeling of the young stranger was measurably heightened. He turned to leave; and as he was the last customer, the barkeeper followed him to the door to lock it after him. At that moment a jolly crowd came around the corner singing:

"Picayune Butler's come to town."

The barkeeper knowing the crowd was making for W's., and it being already after midnight, he desired to shut them out; so he politely hurried the young stranger through the door, slamed it to lock it, put the bar across, and retreated with his lamp up stairs. Presently there was a tremendous rapping at the front door, but the bar-keeper, satisfied that it was the noisy company he had barred out, rolled himself up in the quilt, and turned over to take his 'winks.'

"Mike, will yon open this door, you d—d fool!" shouted one of the crowd, in a stentorian manner.

"I aint no such fool," grumbled Mike as he pulled the covering tighter around him.

"Will you open the do-o-r?" was called again.

"I won't—and that's flat!" growled Mike to himself, in answer, and off he dropped into the land of dreams. He slept as it might be supposed a soldier would, who was listening to the storming of Chapultepec.

An amusing scene was transpiring all this time on the outside. The young stranger in hastily passing through the portal, brushed up one of the tails of his new coat, and the barkeeper in shutting one half of the door securely fastened the coat tail in the opening. Supposing, of course that he would observe it, and instantly release him, he stood still, quietly, for a moment, and the noisy party surrounded him.

"Stand aside stranger, and let us in," said the foremost of the party.

'I would like to do so, gentlemen," was the reply, "if I could, but upon my word, just at present, I am unable to comply."

"Well, we'll help you," said another, and seizing him by the arm, he slung him, minus the coat tail, out upon the pavement.

Here was a fine opening for a small fight—but one of the party perceiving the difficulty at a glance, interfered with a thousand apologies for his impetuous friend, stated that the torn garment should be paid for; &c, and offered to lend him his own coat until the morning. The destruction of the wedding garment was very unfortunate, and the young stranger lost temper at the idea of being so awkwardly fastened to the door by the barkeeper, but what was his further horror, to find that a package of money, amounting to 5 hundred dollars, intended to bear the expenses of himself and bride to her future home, was in the coat-tail pocket, and like it, fast in the door. He did not exactly know whether it was prudent to let the present crowd into a knowledge of the fact that such an amount was in the pocket, but to get the door open he told them that a marriage certificate was in the wedged up coat tail. On this announcement, all vowed they would rescue the precious document, or tear the tales of their combined under garments in the effort, and accordingly they assailed the barred portal in a mass. They were preparing to follow up their fruitless efforts of assault with feet and fists, by substituting an awning post for a battering ram, when a watchman interfered, enquired the cause of trouble, and volunteered to visit the rear of Mr. Walker's premises and have the rear of the gentlemen's wedding released—this arrangement was generally agreed to, and watchey started. In the meantime, the outsiders held a small caucus of condolence with the groom, during which several animated resolves were passed, that they would victimize the barkeeper when they got in, by keeping him up until daylight!—The banging of the door behind them, and the shock of the bar closing in the iron hasp aroused their attention but it was too late!

The barkeeper on learning the trouble, had quietly descended, opened the door, pushed out the coat tail and fastened the entrance, beat a retreat again. The ontsiders stormed but it was no use. they, therefore, concluded to pick up the trophy, bear it along to some open establishment, and hold a jolification over its rescue. The owner recovered his package of money, and wished to retreat, but they were in no mood to part with him, they wished to heal all differences before they separated, drink the health of the lady named in the recaptured document, and fill out an order for a new wedding suit. The stranger was forced to yield, and we need not add, that he got home very late next morning.

The day had grown old before the victim was able to visit his bride, and of course she pouted a little but on his promise to assign the cause at the wedding. the arrangement was suffered to proceed. As he promised, he proceeded fully to rehearse the above facts And obtained forgiveness of his young wife, by declaring that he would for the future keep his tail out of such scrapes.

A STEAM MAN.

A mechanic in Russia is said to have succeeded in making a steam man. It is probably one of the most interesting inventions ever offered to the public. It is a callossal statue, the feet of which are placed upon a railroad, and as he goes thundering over the course, the steam comes puffing out of his nostrils in a manner to give the appearance of Satan as pictured in Revelations.

THE METALS.

Before man was created, and when the heaven and earth were without form and void, God made the metals. And he locked them up in coffers of stone, and setting huge rocks upon them, buried them deep under the ground.

First, he made the yellow gold gorgeous as the sun, and the angels cried aloud, "we praise thee, O! Lord, heaven and earth are full of the majesty of thy glory."

Then the white silver—chaste as a moon was made. And again the angels cried, "we praise thee, O! Lord!"

Next the copper was formed—red as the morning—and once more the angels cried, "Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of thy glory."

And then he made the iron—gray as night—and the lead—in color like the thunder cloud. But the angels grieved at the sight and were silent.

And Peace bent down her head, and weeping cried "make them not, merciful Father! make them not! For though thou lockest them up in coffers made of stone, and hidest them in the bowels of the earth, man will find them out and use them to slay his brother, and I and my sister angels will have no resting place on earth.'

But Wisdom rose up and cried, 'Make them, O, Lord! make them, for man, after a time, surfeited with slaughter, shall, with the iron, set a girdle round the earth, that will prove a suer safety than the sword, and bind tribe with tribe, and nation with nation, till the whole human race shall be linked together by it into one family. And the lead he shall cast into tiny tongues, wherewith the best and wisest of mankind shall speak with their distant brethren, and pour their minds into those of their less gifted neighbors, and making their voices heard by it, far beyond the cannon's roar, shall tell the whole world of the wondrous beauty and bounty of thy works.'

FATE OF THE APOSTLES.

St. Matthew, the Apostle and Evangelist, is supposed to have suffered martyrdom, or was slain with a sword at the city of Ethiopia.

St. Mark' the evangelist, was dragged through the streets of Alexandria, in Egypt until he expired.

St. Luke, the evangelist, was hanged upon an olive tree in Greece.

St. John, the apostle and evangelist, was put into a cauldron of boiling oil, and escaped death! He afterwards died a natural death at Ephesus in Asia

St. James the great was beheaded at Jerusalem.

St. James, the less, the apostle, was thrown from a pinnacle, or wing of the Temple, and then beaten to death with a fuller's club.

St. Phillip, the apostle, was hanged up against a pillar, at Hierapolis, a city of Phrygia.

St. Bartholomew, the apostle, was flayed alive by the command of a barbarous king.

St. Andrew, the apostle, was bound to a cross, where he preached to the people until he expired.

St. Thomas, the apostle, was run through the body with a lance, at Coromandel, in the East Indies.

St Jude, the apostle, was shot to death with arrows.

St. Simon, (Zealot) the apostle, was crucified in Persia.

St. Matthias, the apostle, was first stoned and then beheaded.

St. Barnabas, apostle of the Gentiles, was stoned to death by the Jews at Salania.

St. Paul, was beheaded at Rome, by the tyrant Nero.

ANECDOTE.

Judge Dooly, of Georgia, was remarkable for his wit, as well as for other talents. At one place where he attended Court, he was not well pleased with his entertainment at the tavern. On the first day of the Court a Hog—under the name of a pig—had been cooked whole and laid on the table. No person attacked it.—It was brought the next day, and the next, and treated with the same respect; and it was on the table on the day on which the Court adjourned. As the party finished their dinner, Judge Dooly, rose from the table and in a solemn manner addressed the Clerk, "Mr. Clerk," said he, "dismiss that hog upon his recognisance until the first day of next Court. He has attended so very faithfully during the present term, that I don't think it necessary to take any security.

"Annexation and war—that's true, every word of it," said a pert old maid; "no sooner do you get married than you begin to fight."

A WORD TO YOUNG MEN.

Wishing and sighing, and imagining and dreaming of greatness, said Wm. Wirt, will not make you great. But cannot a young man command his energies? Read Foster on decision of character. That book will tell you what is in your power to accomplish.—You must gird up your loins and go to work with all the indomitable energy of Hannibal scaling the Alps. It is your duty to make the most of time, talents and opportunities.

Alfred, King of England, though he performed more business than any one of his subjects, found time to study.

Franklin, in the midst of his labors, had time to dive into the depths of philosophy, and explore the untrodden path of science.

Frederick the great, with an Empire at his direction, in the midst of war, and on the eve of battle, found time to revel in the charms of philosophy, and feast on the luxuries of science.

Napoleon, with Europe at his disposal, with Kings in his ante-chamber, and at the head of thousands of men, whose destinies were suspended on his arbitrary pleasure, found time to converse with books.

And young men who are confined to labor or business even twele hours a day, may take an hour and a half of what is left, for study, and which will amount to two months in the course of a year.

OFFICIAL GALLANTRY.

The Legislative correspondent of the Savannah Republican, writing from the capitol of Georgia, remarks:

It is sometimes quite amusing to observe the conflict between the gallantry of the Speaker and his disposition to preserve order. If there is an unusual rustling of ladies' dresses in the gallery, and quite a wabling of soft voices that pretty women are always proud of, down comes the Speaker's hammer, while he looks hard in a direction where the ladies are not, and cries "too much noise in the gallery!"—Mr. Oslin, the doorkeeper, takes the hint and walks up to a cluster of the "lords of creation," who are perfectly mute, and tolerably near the fair ones, and calls out. "Gentlemen! silence in the lobby!" On one occasion Mr. Oslin marched up to a party where there was an unsual chattering, and cried out in an angry voice: "Gentlemen, the Speaker says you must cease talking, and let the ladies talk. The House is pleased to hear the ladies talk!" By this means silence is secured in an indirect and polite way, that gives offence to no one, and is readily forgiven, both by the mute and the noisy gentlemen.

THE SABBATH.

If you would befriend one of the best friends of the human body—keep the Sabbath.

If you would honor one of the best friends of the human intellect and general education—keep the Sabbath.

If you would favor a grand illuminator of the public conscience, and by such agency a powerful supporter of the civil law—keep the Sabbath.

If you would sustain a law which gives great power to all other divine laws in the human mind—keep the Sabbath.

A RETORT.

'Be careful how you drink, or you'll wash the color from your cheeks!' said a gentlemen, at a fashionable party, as he handed a glass of water to a lady.

'There is no danger of your ever taking water enough to remove the color from your face!' was the good natured retort. She rather had him there.

☞ There is as much truth as poetry in the following lines, notwithstanding they were penned by a poetic genius while on a 'spree.'

Men drink brandy, and never think,
That girls at all can tell it;
They don't suppose a woman's nose
Was ever made to smell it.

☞ A clergyman, who reading to his congregation a chapter in Genesis, found the last sentence to be, 'And the Lord gave unto Adam a wife,' turning over two leaves together, he found written, and read in an audible voice, 'And she was pitched without and within!' He had unhappily got into the middle of a description of Noah's Ark.

It was the remark of a humorist, that "to talk about a persons having the power to weep on all occasions, is the height of moonshine. I'd like to see a man cry with a pretty girl beside him—pockets full of cash—and plenty of ice cream in reach.

GOLDSBORO' TELEGRAPH

THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1850.

WHIG MEETING.

☞ We are requested to inform the Whigs of Wayne, and the adjoining Counties that there will be a Whig meeting at Waynesboro', on Tuesday of Wayne County Court in February next, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the State Convention to nominate a candidate for Governor.

HON. WM. H. WASHINGTON.

We lay before our readers to-day, the following letter from Mr. Washington, in which we are sorry to learn that he cannot consent to become a candidate for the office of Governor.

Newbern, 25th January, 1850.

Col. W. F. S. Alston,

Dear Sir,

In your paper of the 16th inst., I perceive you have done me the honor to name me as a suitable Candidate for the office of Governor of the State, at the coming election. That matter has been often pressed upon me recently, by my personal and political friends in this part of the State, and while I duly appreciate their kindness and partiality, my unvaried and invariable answer has been, that under no circumstances, and upon no consideration could I consent to have my name brought forward at this time in connection with that distinguished office.

In the same article in which you express your decided preference for me, you state that under no circumstances could you support either the Hon. Wm. B. Shepard or the Hon. Thos. L. Clingman. To prevent a misapprehension abroad as to my position, permit me to say, that while I can see no good reason why our present excellent Chief Magistrate should not be re-elected; yet if Gov. Manly should decline a re-election, it would give me pleasure to support either Mr. Shepard or Mr. Clingman, or any other suitable individual, known to be sound on the question of Internal Improvements who may be selected by a Convention of our friends.

Very respectfully yours, &c.

WM. H. WASHINGTON.

COMPLIMENTORY MEETING.

At a meeting of the passengers on the Steamer Johnston. Capt. Clark, Jan. 25th. 1850; Present; Genl. R. M. Saunders, James Griswold Esq. F. L. Castax, Col. C. J. Nelson, Jno. P. Taylor, S. Webb, G. Peacock, S. D. Philips, J. H. Everett, J. A. Ingram, S. Pate, J. Thompson, K. Langston, W. B. Fields, J. J. Bradbarry, A. J. Findalson, J. Edwards, F. H. Gill, R. E. Williams, W. F. S. Alston, and L. H. Whitfield,

THE ÆOLIAN MINSTRELS.

These interesting melodists will visit our Town in a few days. We have never had the pleasure of witnessing their performances; but if we are to judge of them by the many favourable notices we have seen in our exchanges, they must be truly interesting.

☞The Greensboro' Patriot says:

In Cabarrus we understand there is every probability of two shares more of the Hundred being shortly added. She has six already.

Gloriously has old Rowan marched up to the responsibilities of the work! She now stands the Banner County in the enterprise, and she holds within her borders the gallant spirits to mrintain her position against all comers—except our own Guilford!

And where are we to look for the unsubscribed balance, but to the counties immediately interested? What have we to hope from Wayne and Johnson? When the East and the West look to there territory as furnishing literally the link of connection, shall both sections appeal to their public spirit in vain? Has the enterprise of that region departed with the manly spirit of McLeod?

OUR VISIT TO NEWBERM.

At an early hour on Monday the 21st Inst., we were summoned by the shrill whistle of the Steamer to Waynesboro', where we, with the other delegates from Wayne and Gen. Romulus M. Saunders, embarked on the Steamer Johnston to attend the Rail Road Convention to be held at Newberne on the 23rd inst.

We had a pleasant time of it, but for the incessant showers of rain that drove us from deck. We arrived in Newberne at 11 o'clock P. M. of the same day, and took lodgings at the Newberne Hotel where we "fared sumptuously every day" during our stay in the City.

On Tuesday we visited our many friends, took a pleasant sail on the river and visited the Sash Factory of Alonzo J. Willis when we had the pleasure of seeing the process of making Sash Blinds and Doors of every description. It was quite a curiosity to us. The day passed away so pleasantly that even before we were aware of the fact the sable curtains of night were thrown around us.

On Wednesday, the day set apart for the Convention, a large number of the citizens of Newbern and the adjoining Counties assembled in the Court House at 10 o'clock and on motion Dr. Justice, magistrate of Police was called to the Chair and C. C. Clark appointed Secretary Permanent officers were then appointed and John Blackwell Esq. the President of the Convention explained the object of the meeting in a practical and felicitous manner. A Committee was then appointed to draft resolutions for the action of the Convention which were introduced by the Hon. Wm. H. Washington Chairman of the Committee.

After the report of the Committee had been received, Mr. Washington said in substance as follows:

Mr. President.—I do not propose to discuss the resolutions which have just been made, but I trust I may be indulged in saying, that they received not only the cordial, but unanimous support of the Committee who reported them. They seek Sir no party objects, they aim at the elevation of no particular man, or set of men, they relate to the welfare of the whole State, and the best means of increasing the wealth, prosperity and happiness of her citizens—objects which must be dear to the heart of every lover of his country. Those Resolutions Sir, express opinions and sentiments, which I am proud to believe, have received the sanction and approval of the wisest, purest, and best men of the State—opinions and sentiments which have enlisted the services, and aroused the eloquence of a Morehead and a Graham, a Gilmer and a Graves, together with a host of other distinguished men, of both political parties.

And it gives me pleasure and pride to say, that we are honored on this occasion, by the presence of a no less illustrious advocate; a gentleman who has served his native State at the Bar, on the Bench, and in her Legislative Halls with credit to himself, and advantage to her people Who has adorned alike the Councils of his own Nation, and the Court of Madrid;—and who while surrounded by the splendors of a Foreign Court, was not unmindful of the interest of his native State, but having served his country abroad, with ability, fidelity and honor, has returned home with a determination to devote his talents and his time, to elevating the Old North State to that position among her sister States, to which her Internal resources, and the character of her people entitle her—and urging her foward in her career of greatness and of glory.

Mr. President, after what I have said need I name the Hon. Romulus M. Saunders?

Allow me Sir, to introduce him to you, and to the Convention, and to bespeak for him, that attention and respect to which his talents, his long experience, his devoted patriotism, and his fervid eloquence, so justly entitle him.

Gen. Saunders then arose amid deafning applause and entertained the Convention with a speech of about one hour and a half in length. It was undoubtedly one of the General's happiest efforts. Volley after volley of burning eloquence was poured forth by the happy orator in such glowing strains that the friends of the Road became almost frantic with joy, while the objections raised by the enemies of this work were driven away before the sound arguments of the General like chaff before the sweeping tornado. We cannot do Gen'l S. justice but will leave our readers to infer when we tell them that betwen thirty and forty thousand dollars of stock was taken in the North Carolina Rail Road. After passing resolutions of thanks to Gen Saunders for his able address, and to the officers for the manner in which they performed their duties the Convention adjourned.

Extension of the North Carolina Rail Road to Newbern.

At early candle-light the citizens of New Berne en masse and a large number of the citizens of the adjoining counties assembled at the Court House in New Berne, for the purpose of holding a meeting relative to the extension of the North Carolina Rail Road to the Town of New Berne.

On motion, Dr. Justice Magistrate of Police was called to the Chair, who explained the object of the meeting in a few pertinent remarks. When on motion, a committee was appointed to dreft resolutions for the action of the Convention.

Geo. S. Stevenson, Chairman of the Committee, submitted resolutions for the action of the Convention, and commented on them in his usual witty and interesting style. Mr. S. said, he had seen the enthusiasm of the Democrats, when Jas. K. Polk was elected President of the United Stats, and also that of the Whigs in the election of General Taylor. But on no occasion, had he witnessed such enthusiasm as the present. He congratulated the citizens, on the interest they now felt for their own prosperity, and how different their feelings now, to a few short weeks ago, when not enough Rail Road men could be obtained to form a corporals guard.

Mr. Washington was called up who responded in an able and eloquent speech He spoke of the benefits that must necessarily accrue upon the construction of this work. He contrasted the condition of New berne now, to what it was several years ago, and urged the citizens to take this measure in hand, and prosperity would attend the enterprize.

Gen Saunders was then called to the floor by aclamation. He responded in a few cheering and patriotic remarks, amid a continued volley of applause. He said he had been told, New Berne was opposed to Internal Improvements, and his visit would be in vain. But said Gen. S., when I see such enthusiasm, and interest manifested by such liberal subscriptions, I can but say that this is the happiest moment of my life.

After Gen. S. concluded his remarks, books were opened and sixty-thousand dollars worth of Stock was taken While the citizens were making their way through the crowd to the desk, Messrs Gulick & Disosway sung the "Old North State," and the citizens generally joined in the chorus. After resolutions of thanks to the officers and General Saunders for his able and eloquent address, the Convention adjourned.

On Thursday at 4 o'clock P. M. the shrill whistle of the Johnston summoned us to the Devereaux wharf on the Trent, where we were accompanied by hundreds of the citizens around to Jerkins' wharf on the Neuse. As soon as the citizens of Newbern got ashore and the Boat left the wharf the delegates gave three cheers to old Newbern, and three cheers to the memory of Judge Gaston and John Stanly. The citizens of Newbern then gave three cheers to Gen. Saunders and three cheers to the Wayne and Lenoir delegation.

The motion of the Steamer soon warned us that we were bidding adieu to the hospitable Town of Newbern and while we gazed upon the elegant City we fancied our return five years hence when the rumbling cars and puffing engine shall be heard in her midst, the busy multitudes crowding her streets, and her harbor whitened with the sails of every land. Then, then Old Athens like "Richard, will be herself again."

HARD TO BEAT.

We understand a Hog was recently killed in this County, raised by the Rev. Curtis Hooks, one of our best farmers, which measured six feet seven inches round the girth, six feet eleven inches in length and weighed six hundred and ten pounds.

THE STANDARD.

The editor of this paper made quite an effort at wit and sarcasm, in his notice of us concerning Mess Shepherd and Clingman. We can inform him that we only expressed our determination, seconded by the Whigs of "the surrounding country," whom we consul'ed in this matter. He seems to think that the party lash will prove effectual in forcing us into line. But we must inform him that he does us gross injustice, to insinuate, that we would surrender an honest opinion, as willingly as he did, but a few short years ago. The leaders of the whig party do not use the implement that Sampson, and the standard-man uses, consequently he miscalculates their strength. From his remarks, and the manner in which he jogs along we infer that he has felt the democratic whip since he sold his birthright. He says; 'almost any nag will fling up heels when enjoying his grass, and snort." If he had been content when he showed his heels, or had snorted like other nags, he would not have rendered himself so contemptible.

We wonder if ex-Gov. Shepherd (Billy's counsellor) did not dictate that funny article, by way of drumming for his brother?

A handsome block of marble, intended as the contribution of the State of Delaware towards the erection of the Washington National Monument, has just been completed in Philadelphia. It is four feet square and weighs a ton. On the top is a handsome bust of Washington, and on the side the word "Delaware," both above and below which are the figures "1849." Nat. Int.

AN IMPOSTER.

At the request of the aggrieved Grandmother, we publish the following:—

A man of genteel appearance calling himself William Hampton, professing to be from Madison Parish, Louisiana, came into the vicinity of Milledgeville, in April last. Affecting to have business in the neighborhood, he made many acquaintances, among them a very worthy young lady, Miss Mary King, whom he addressed and married.—After remaining with her about three months, pretending to prepare to return to Louisiana, he sold her property amounting to near three thousand dollars, pocketed the money, and thereupon deserted her without having given any intimation of such intention.

As there are good reasons to believe that this is not the first act of the kind he has been guilty of, the Grandmother conceives it to be her duty thus to hold the man up to public scorn, and to put it on its guard against a recurrence of the like, Said Hampton (if that be his true name) is rather handsome in his person, about six feet high, of fair complexion, sandy hair, blue eyes, about twenty-six or seven years of age. In manners very sociable, and profuse with his money.

BILLS TO ABOLISH THE SLAVE TRABE AND SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT OF Columbia.—

A Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune sends to that paper the following abstract of two bills which Mr. Crowoll, of Ohio, proposes to introduce at the earliest practicable day in regard to slavery in the District of Columbia. He begins with the bill relating to the slave trade:—

Section 1st prohibits the introduction of slaves here "for merchandize, or sale or hire."

Section 2d makes the act a misdemeanor, and provides a fine of $500 and imprisonment for not less than three or more then ten months, for each slave, at the discretion of the Court, placing the keeping of a "slave pen," or being accessory thereto, on the same footing

Section 3d makes null and void all contracts for the sale or hirmg of slaves introduced for such purpose. Section 4th requires a registry, in the Circuit Court, on oath, within thirty days, that any slave brought into the District is not brought for the purposes forbidden, but for the personal use of the importer.

It also makes it the duty of the Clerk of said Court to keep a record of imported slaves, giving certificates of legality. All slaves brought here, contrary to the provisions of the act, to be free—provided, nevertheless, that no restriction shall be put on the importation of devised or inherited slaves, or those obtained by marriage, or hindrance to owners passing through the District

Section 5th construes a neglect to register any slave, as aforesaid, as constructive evidence of an intentional violation of this act.

Section 6th makes it the duty of the Secretary of State to publish this act in two newspapers, at least, in every Slave-holding State, and in at least three of the papers of this District, for two successive months; and names the first day of May, 1850, as the date, from and after which the act is to take effect.

The bill for the abolition of slavery is brief, having only three sections.

Section 1st enacts that "Slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment of crime, shall for ever be abolished in the City of Washigton, District of Columbia..,

Section 2d authorizes the President of the United States to appoint—Commissioners, not residents of the District, at a salary of not more than $8 a day, to value the slaves, on testimony to be exhibited by owners, the District Attorney appearing in behalf of the United States. The report of the Commissioners is to be subject to the approval of the President of the United States: and, wherein approved, the sum awarded to be paid from any moneys in the Treasury.

Setion 3d, and last, reading as following. I give it verbatim et literatim:

"And be it further enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the fourth day of July, 1850."

RAILWAY PROGRESS.

In 1835 a convention of delegates met at Macon. Ga., which determined to build a road 177 miles westward from Augusta as far as Atlanta; another road to be made from Savannah 100 miles, as far as Macon, and thence 101 miles farther to Atlanta. It was contemplated that these roads should be private enterprises, and from Atalanta the state was to constuct another road, 135 miles in length, to intersect the Tennessee, which it was calculated would act as a feeder to the first mentioned undertakings. All these anticipations have been realised, and Georgia is now reaping the benefit not only of the roads themselves, but of the introduction of manufactures and various branches of industry to which most other southern states are strangers.—Raleigh Register.

The night watchmen in the city of New York number nine hundred and thirty-four.

From the Raleigh Regieter.

THE CENTRAL ROAD.

From a summing up in the last numbers of the "Greensboro' Patriot," and "Salisbury Watchman," we gather that about 76 shares, in all, of the Hundred, have been taken The West has indeed done nobly, and though the Counties, East of us, have not, thus far, made any material accessions to there respective Conventions appointed to be held by the Chairman of the Executive Committee are well nigh over; and the able and zealous advocates of the cause have labored with an untiring assiduity that commends them, to the warmest gratitude of the friends of State improvement.

For an account of the results and progress of the mission of those Gentlemen, we refer to the annexed letter from Gov. Morehead to Gen. Saunders, which we take from the "Patriot:"

Greensboro', Jan. 17, 1850.

Hon. R. M. Saunders, Chairman of the Executive Committee on the N. C. Rail Road:

Sir:—Agreeably to the request of the Railroad Convention which met at Greensboro', the Hon. Calvin Graves, John A. Gilmer, Esq., and myself, attended the several meetings appointed to be held west of this place: and that your Committee and the friends of this great State improvement may know how the good work progresses in that region, I address you through the press.

We left here on the 3rd inst., and attended meetings at Union Institute in Randolph, Lexington, Salisbury, Concord, Rockey River, Charlotte, Mount Mourne, Statesville, Mocksville, Clemmonsville and Salem—reaching this place last night. Our efforts were mainly directed to procuring "the Hundred" individuals or companies who would become responsible for the balance of the stock not covered or taken by independent subscriptions. The number of individuals or companies who added their names to the list has been encouragingly augmented: Randolph added one; Lexington five: Salisbury four; Concord four: Rocky River, two; Charlotte and Mecklenburg nothing; Mount Mourne one; Statesville none, but two or three promised: Mocksville and Davie two; Clemmonsville one: Salem two:—making twenty-two added to the fifty one subscribed at Convention. I think we may safely calculate on four or five more promised shortly.

What additions have been made to "tho Hundred,' east of this, I am not apprised, save as to the four additional names in Raleigh.

I now feel assured the Railroad will be built, if every good citizen does his duty and proper exertions are made. The best spirit prevailed whereever we went. In some of the counties the sub?ect had been but little canvassed; but wehn the subject was fairly and fully presented to then, the people took a lively interest in the Road.

Our friends Graves and Gilmer did yeoman's service in the cause: all praise is due to them for their zeal and indefatigable ezertions, by argument and statistics, to convince all—all—of the absolute necessity of accomplishing this great enterprise.

This is the great work of the day for North Carolina: and I am pleased to find Whig and Democrat contending side by side which shall do most for its success. I saw in the route but two individuals avowedly opposed to the work.

Permit me to suggest to you, to keey the public apprised though the Raleigh papers of the success of the subscriptions. For, we trust, the nearer the subscriptions approach "the Hundred," the livelier will be the interest manifested.

It is desirable that the Company should be organized at as early a day as possible, that the reconnoissance of the route, preparatory to surveys, should be made before the leavos put forth in the Spring.

Yours respectfully,

J. M. MOREHEAD.

SUSPICION OF MURDER.

A man named James Morrisy was on Saturday arrested on suspicion of having poisoned a female while on their passage from England a few weeks since, thus causing her death: It appears that the female is a niece of a resident of this city named Dellaway, and was about 30 years since abducted from his house and taken to Ireland: where she was confined in a convent of the order of La Trappe Mr. Dellaway: on learning her whereabouts, has for a series of years used his utmost endeavors for her liberation, and succeeded in October last, by thretening to lay the matter before the British Government. The Society, however, insisted that the accused, who was Janitor of the Convent, should accompany her, which he did and embarked on board the same vessel. On the 1st of January, she was taken sick, and died on the 6th. Suspicion, from a series of circumstances, led to the belief that the accused had poisoned her, especially as it appears that he obtained possession of the body and threw it overboard. The accused was taken before Justice Osborne, who committed him to prison. He will this morning be sent before the U. S. Court where the matter will undergo an investigation.

Curious.—During a celebration of the Sons of Temperance lately at Tazewell, Tennessee, says the Philadelphia Pledge, a rumseller in that town shut up his shop, and refused to sell liquor to any one during the day; observing that there was a time for all things.

DUDLEY'S
Anti-Rheumatic OIL.

A certain and speedy Cure for Chronic Rheumatism, Spasms of the Muscles, Ligaments, and Back, and for Sprains, Bruises, and Contusions.

The history of this invaluable medicine is remarkable. It has risen into notice, and established a high and just reputation in the region of country where it has been tried, alone from the surprising and numerous cures it has effected. The Proprietor Dr. Samuel Dudley, Hospital Surgeon, on the Island of Portsmouth, North Carolina, has used it with unfailing success, both in the Hospital, and in his private practice about twenty years. During that period it has been attracting public attention, and gradually rising into general and high reputation in all that region of country, solely, by the surprising certainty of the cures it has uniformly effected. Until very recently, it has never been advertised, nor have any pains been taken to extend its celebrity. Its high reputation therefore is permanent, because it is based upon surprising and unfailing experiments alone. The Proprietor encouraged by its eminent success in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, and by the advice of his friends, and he will add actuated by a desire to extend as far as possible the benefits of its healing properties, is now taking measures to make its wonderful properties more generally known. All he asks is a fair trial. It is now offered to the afflicted in the Eastern portion of North Carolina. The proprietor is perfectly willing to put the result of its success or failure upon its success or failure in curing or failure to cure any case of Chronic Rheaumatism, or other affection for which it is recommended.

Certificates from highly respectable sources like the following, can be multiplied to almost any extent. A few are appended.

The following has been politely furnished by that highly esteemed citizen, Col. Joshua Tayloe of Beaufort county, N. C. well known as a valuable member of our State Senate, and at present Collector of the Port of Ocracoke, North Carolina:—

"At the request of Dr. Samuel Dudley of Portsmouth, North Caolina, I state that some years ago one of my sons had a severe and protracted attack of Rheumatism, and by using his "Anti-Rheumatic Oil" he was relieved.

It gives me great pleasure to say, that besides this case, I have heard of others which convince me that this oil is very valuable in cases of Rheumatism.

JOSHUA TAYLOE.
Washington, N. C., 28, 1848.

The High Sheriff of the County of Carteret, has placed the following at the proprietors disposal:—

This may certify, that I have been for many years afflicted with Rheumatism, and recently had an attack in the neck, and by the application of "Dudley's Anti-Rheumatic Oil," only three times, was in a few hours perfectly relieved.

GEORGE DILL.
Beaufort, N. C. Sept. 1848.

The following letter is from a respectable Druggist, I. Disosway, of Newbern, North Carolina.

Dr. S. Dudley,

Dear Sir,—I have sold out almost all of the Anti-Rheumatic Oil sent me, and as I do not wish to get out of it, I should be glad if you would send me another supply. I can speak in the most decided term, in reference to the merits of the Oil. I have never known it to fail. It has been used by one of my clerks with the best results, by Mr. Guion, late a member of the Legislature, and others and always with decided effect

I know of a person who has been unable to move a foot without assistance, who was cured in less than three days, and with using one bottle only. I can recommend it with confidence, and shall lose no opportunity of so doing.

Yours, &c.
I. DISOSWAY.

PROSPECTUS OF THE GRANVILLE WHIG.

A Weekly Paper, devoted to Politics, News, Internal Improvement and Southern Manufactures.

EDITED BY GEO. WORTHAM.

A paper bearing the above title will be issued in the town of Oxford, N. C., on Wednesday the 13th of February next.

While the Granville Whig will advocate the measures of that Great Conservative Party, it will pursue a fair and candid course towards the Opposition, bestowing censure on whatever is censurable, and ever battling for truth, regardless of the source whence it emanates.

A correct compendium of foreign and domestic news, drawn from a number of well selected exchanges, will be given weekly in its columns, together with statistics and general information on the engrossing subjects of Internal Improvement and Southern Manufactures.

A portion of its columns will be devoted to religious intelligence and matters of general interest, and a few choice literary selections will also be found among its contents. In short, it will be the object of its Editor to make it a good Whig paper, combining amusement with valuable information.

THE GRANVILLE WHIG will be published weekly with clear type, on good paper of medium size, at the exceedingly low rates of

$2 00 per annum,

Or, $3 00 if not paid in six months from subscription.

Address the Editor, (post paid) Oxford, N C.

Only 25 cents per box,

FOR the cure of Headache, Giddiness, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Piles, Heartburn, Worms, Dyspepsia, Cholera Morbus, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Liver complaint, Rising in the throat, Fevers of all kinds, Colds, Gout, Gravel, Female Complaints, Nervous complaints, and all other diseases arising from impurities of the blood, and morbid secretions of the liver and Stomach.

Every disease to which the human frame is subject, originates from impurities of the blood or derangement of digestive organs.

Dr. Gordon's Family Pills, being compounded exclusively of such ingredients as nature intended should operate on the impurities of the Human System. Strike at the root of the disease, removing all impurities from the body, opening the pores externally, separating all foreign and obnoxious particles from the chyle, so that the blood, of which it is the origin, must be thoroughly pure and necessarily securing a free and vigorous action to the Heart, Lungs, Liver and Stomach, thereby restoring health, by opening the pores, cleansing the veins and arteries, unimpeding all the natural veins and purifying the blood; they render the system not only thoroughly sound, but also impervious to disease, even when all other means have failed.

Within the last twelve months, more than one hundred cases of the most aggravated forms of Dyspepsia have been cured by the medicine, where rigid dieting, the Blue Pill, and almost every other means had been resorted to without any benefit, and when death stared its miserable victim fully in the face. If Dr. Gordon's PILLS were not adapted to the cure of any but this horrid malady, their uniform success in this disease alone would be sufficient to 'waft on to fame' the name of their inventor, as a benefactor of his species. This medicine never fails to cure the worst cases of piles in one week!

MITCHELL'S

EYE SALVE.

To the Public.

THE concurrent testimony of men of integrity and worth is the best evidence we can have of any fact of which we have no cognizance ourselves. The great advantages possessed by this article over all other, are—its CERTAINTY, SAFETY, CONVENIENCE and ECONOMY. All physicians admit that great danger is to be apprehended from drugging the eye when in an inflamed and unhealthy state. In the use of this salve this objection is entirely removed, as no harm can possibly result from its use: it being in all cases applied to the EXTERNAL portions of the eye, thereby avoiding all the inconvenience, pain and danger, which necessarily attend the introduction of any pungent article INTO the eye. Its activity in subduing inflamation is so great that but few cases require the use of more than one bottle to effect a perfect cure. For sale at this office.
